Pan Roots features the Caribbean steel drum in its pure, unadulterated form, mixing the music of the the Caribbean islands with other world music influences. Their versatile presentation can incite dancing or be tailored to provide a background atmosphere for an event.

In addition Pan Roots has developed a narrative show that adds an educational-cultural dimension to their performance. Under the auspices of the San Francisco Symphony and Young Audiences of the Bay Area, the band has performed before thousands of audiences in schools and communities throughout the Bay Area.

Steel band is the twentieth century's addition to the musical family of instruments. From the tops of oil drums, tuned to produce an orchestral range of sounds, steel drummers create sweet melodies, harmony and rhythm.
